

O'Bannon Woods State Park

1800's Living Farmstead Day

October 8, 2011

10am – 4pm

Join us for a day of FUN!

As you walk into the Farmstead, you will smell homemade apple butter cooking over the fire; hear the blacksmith's hammer ringing on the anvil, or the sound of laughter as the children play pioneer games. Watch as they demonstrate making lye soap, tomahawk throwing, spinning, cooking, woodworking and the sorghum press. Test your skills on the two-man cross cut saw and pioneer crafts. The day will wind down with the Corydon Dulcimer Society performing from 3pm-4pm. This will be our last Living Farmstead for the year and you do not want to miss it!
